WASHINGTON MATTERS.

The Political Cauldron at Washington---Terms for the Admission of Tennessee---The Joint Resolution---The President will Veto It.

(Correspondence of the Richmond Examiner.)

WASHINGTON, March 5.

The country will be annoyed at the terms proposed by the Reconstruction Committee for the admission of representatives from Tennessee.—But I am not sure that, in the present state of political feeling, Congress will be supported in the measure, accompanied as it is with a voluminous record of testimony in regard to the condition of that State. Some of the Republican members are themselves unprepared to endorse and sustain such a measure. Moderate counsels seem to prevail among some of them, as I informed you yesterday.

The joint resolution, as we understand it now, is based upon the radical theory that the eleven seceded States are not only out of the Union, but that they must comply with conditions precedent to their admission into it. Tennessee may be admitted into the Union, upon a footing with the original States, upon its compliance with certain conditions precedent. The resolution does not admit of representation from these States before the compliance of the States with those conditions. The conditions are, in some respects, new, but may be complied with. This resolution is joint, and will go to the President for his approval. There is no doubt of that any more than there was as to the bill for the admission of Texas or of Missouri. The committee have, of course, counted votes in both Houses, and have duly weighed the political consequences of the measure. Were they not quite certain of carrying the measure, they would hardly have ventured upon it.

This is the mode upon which Congress proposes reconstruction, in opposition to the President's plan. Of course, it draws a deep line between Congress and the President.

Mr. Rogers made a minority report, providing for the immediate admission of Senators and Representatives from the State of Tennessee. The Committee will undertake, as soon as the documents shall be printed and laid before Congress, to push the measure to a vote, under the previous question.

The President's friends in the Tennessee delegation, if he has any, will themselves object to the measure. But it is rumored that this very stringent measure is reported with the consent of the Tennessee delegation.

Secretary Seward on Reconstruction.

[Special Dispatch to the Philadelphia Inquirer.]

WASHINGTON, March 4.—In a conversation yesterday with a leading member of the Pennsylvania Congressional delegation, Secretary Seward brought up the question of reconstruction, and was very severe upon Congress for their refusal to admit the Southern delegation. The member thought that after four years of a rebellion that had taken millions of armed men to suppress, and entailed upon us a debt of three thousand millions of dollars, it was the duty of Congress to patiently examine into the question of whether the same men were in a fit condition to be again entrusted with the political power of this Government; that no rebel should ever have a seat in Congress with his consent; that the policy of the President was lamentable, as it would prove a positive injury to the South.

Mr. Seward replied, with a great deal of warmth, that the policy was that which Mr. Lincoln had adopted, and was carrying it out when he died, and that Mr. Johnson was merely continuing it; that the people would sustain it, and there was not a rebel to-day in the whole country, and he should not use the word. Mr. Seward is in favor of the admission of the entire body of Southern members, just as they are, and of the repeal of the test oath.

TRIAL OF CAPTAIN SEMMES.

A report, seemingly well authenticated, prevails in Washington that the government has decided not to bring Admiral Semmes to trial, on the ground that his parole given at the time of Johnston's surrender entitles him to immunity so long as its conditions are observed.

GENERAL SCOTT ENDORSES PRESIDENT JOHNSON.

We learn that the old veteran and patriot, General Scott, unhesitatingly endorses all that President Johnson uttered in his speech on the 22d ult. The staunch old soldier expresses the hope that he will yet see the North and South more firmly bound together than ever, and that to effect this, President Johnson has adopted the only true and proper course.—New York Herald.

E. F. Coe's Super-Phosphate of Lime,
OR BONE MANURE.
WARRANTED GENUINE.

BEING MADE OF THE BEST MATERIAL AND in the most approved manner, it is recommended to the public as superior to any other in the market. All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms of praise, and those engaged in its manufacture will continue their best endeavors to advance the high reputation which it has acquired.
We guarantee the Phosphate to be well manufactured, and recommend it in preference to any other artificial manure in the market. We consider it nearly equal to the best Peruvian Guano, although purchased at half the price.
Messrs R. H. Allen & Co., the well known manufacturers of agricultural implements, say of it:
"We take pleasure in stating that we have sold E. F. Coe's Super Phosphate of Lime for four years.—It has given universal satisfaction to our customers. We most cheerfully endorse it as an article worthy of the confidence of the public, and the purchaser may rely upon securing an article honestly and carefully manufactured.
"We would state that, after careful examination, we believe this Phosphate has been improved each year since its introduction in this market, and that it will continue to maintain its present high standing. "Very respectfully,
"R. H. ALLEN & CO.,
"No. 191 Water street, New York."

E. FRANK COE, Esq.,
Annexed please find result of my analysis of sample of your Super Phosphate of Lime left with me.
This being such a superior article in every respect, I cannot refrain from congratulating you upon such manufacture, which undoubtedly will meet with great success.
Wishing you every success, I am,
Respectfully yours,
C. A. LEIBIG.

Literature, Art, Reviews, Scientific Papers and General Reading, and we shall number among its contributors some of the first literary men of the South, with others from the North and from London and Paris.
All matter not original will be carefully selected from the newest and best of the English, French and German publications; and its Editors will spare no effort or expense to make it rank with the VERY FIRST magazines of the country.
As its name imports, we have established the COSMOPOLITE upon no sectional basis. We hope to make it the organ of general literature alone; and will be uninfluenced by any party or clique whatever.
It will be mailed to subscribers in any part of the country upon receipt of the following
Subscription:

THE DAILY SENTINEL

WM. E. PELL, SEATON GALES, } Editors.

Friday, March 9, 1866.

OUR TERMS.

THE SENTINEL is issued every morning (Sunday excepted) at the following rates:

For Daily, per year,	$10 00
" six months,	5 00
" one month	1 00
" two months	2 00
Semi-Weekly per year,	5 00
Weekly per year,	3 00

Our terms are invariably in advance. The Weekly and Semi-weekly will be issued about the first of January. Money may be sent us by the Rail Road conductors or the Express Companies.

Was there not a time within the last forty days that the Sentinel was in great trial and tribulation, when men learned in the law and in phisic had to be called in for consultation, and was there not trial and travail for many days before it was determined that the Sentinel would support Gov. Worth for re-election?—Mysterious things have been whispered about these streets, and we have heard it said that there was a time since the Legislature has been in session, that for forty-eight hours the Sentinel hung fire, and when it was thought its immense influence would be used against "the diamond of the first water" alluded to above. And it has been further said, probably by evil disposed persons, that the failure to make some little business arrangements on the part of those who wanted to cut this "diamond" kept the Governor and the Sentinel together. We know nothing about these things, only what we hear on the streets. People will talk and sometimes all we hear is not to be relied on. We would advise Gov. Worth, however, if he means to enter for the August races, to be sure of his "organ." Generals D. H. Hill, Ransom, Hoke, Gov. Vance, Hon. R. W. Bridgers, and others, we might name, have strong holds on the affections of the people. Gov. Worth is a Whig, and all the State officers are Whigs, and it will not be contrary to human nature if the Democracy of other days should organize and protest against always being kept out in the cold.—Progress.

If there is one word of truth in all the above clap-trap, we are ignorant of it. So far as the Sentinel is concerned, the whole of it is false, and made up of the whole cloth. If there has been "trial or tribulation" within the last forty days, it has been with those with whom the Progress acts. We have not been a party to any consultations against Gov. Worth, nor have we heard of any, except among those who are known to be hostile to him. Nor have we heard of any failure to make business arrangements, among those with whom we act—the failure if any, was among those whom we could not support. We have never seen an hour since Mr. Worth's name was announced, before the late election, that we preferred any other man for Governor, at the present crisis, to Jonathan Worth. And we have announced, that from the first and all the time since, we have thought of no one else for Governor for the next two years, as our candidate, but Gov. Worth. We have no idea that he will change his principles or course, as an honest, straight-forward friend of the people of the State and of the Union. If he does, then we shall prefer some one else; but if he keep on the even tenor of his way, we shall support him for the office of Governor against all comers in the next August election.

The Progress, perhaps, has been befogged. Certainly it obtained its bare-bone stories from some wag or from persons who do not talk by the book.

By the way, the disposition of the Progress to lug in Gov. Vance's name in connection with the office of Governor, is unjust to that gentleman. We are confident that Gov. Vance desires no mention of his name in that connection. If his health should justify an early return to his profession, that is all he desires.

We Will Tell you the "Reason."

The Raleigh Sentinel says it "can see no reason why Raleigh cannot do a wholesale business." We will tell you the reason Mr. Sentinel; it is because your merchants and business men, do not advertise in country, as well as in city, papers. We do not recollect to have ever seen an advertisement of a Raleigh merchant in a country paper, save one. The great mass of the people of the State, especially in the West, do not know that a store is kept open in Raleigh, except the few who take the Raleigh dailies.—Most of the people, even the merchants of the interior, patronize the local papers published weekly, for several reasons; one is, the cost is less; another, owing to bad mail facilities a daily paper would not reach them any earlier than a weekly; another, the home paper gives them all the local intelligence. We can perceive no other reason, than assigned above, "why Raleigh cannot do a wholesale business;" and it is quite concluseive. At the present day, in the midst of competition, custom can only be secured by enterprise, and a free use of printer's ink is the best ally of a business man depending upon the public for patronage. The cost of advertising in a country paper, is small compared with a city daily, and the reward will be certain. The better plan would be to advertise in both city and country papers. Will the Sentinel copy this article.—Statesville American.

Yes, and we will back it up. Advertising is the life of trade and business, and if the merchants of Raleigh want to do a wholesale business, they must advertise in the country papers liberally.

Why cannot we have wholesale stores in Raleigh as well as elsewhere? With the Rail Road facilities and the position of this city, we think much might be done. Messrs. Swepson and Pulliam have commenced it, and with their means and capacity, they may do a large business. The Messrs. Tucker also, are now prepared to do a large wholesale dry good business, and there are others in the city. There are many country merchants who seldom wish to buy more than a $1000 worth of goods at a time. It would not pay to go North to buy that amount. If our merchants would offer the inducements they could stop here and lay in their stocks better than by going North. We need, however, not only Dry Goods and Grocery stores, but also Crockery, Hardware and Shoe stores at wholesale.

GAS.—Messrs. Waterhouse and Bowes give notice that gas bills must be paid or the gas will be shut off.

We call the attention of the Union constituents of Messrs. Covington, Keener, Leitch, McCleese, McEachern, McLean, Morehead, Shober, Wiggins, and Wilson to the votes of these gentlemen for Mr. Ferebee, the secession candidate for Speaker. These gentleman voted with Messrs. Aycock, Harris of Franklin, Howard, and others of the original secession panel, who, but for such aid and comfort in the two Houses, would be, as they ought to be, in a hopeless minority.—Standard.

We hope the constituencies of such men as Messrs. Covington, Keener, Leitch, McCleese, McEachern, McLean, Morehead, Shober, Wiggins, and Wilson, will note their course. They have no fears of an investigation. Their constituents rely quite as much upon the intelligence and soundness of these gentlemen, to judge of the character and qualifications of Mr. Ferebee, and of the loyalty of such gentelmen as Messrs. Aycock, Harris and Howard, as they do upon the intelligence of the Standard, and they rely far more upon their honesty. The abuse which the Standard heaps upon Mr. Ferebee and his friends, only tends to heighten them in the estimation of the public. Its day is passed, when it can lead intelligent and right-thinking people in North Carolina. Its censures are really worth a premium to honest, high-minded gentlemen. Its reckless attempts to injure the good fame of our people—to prejudice them before the people of the North,—its bare-faced slanders against the loyalty and hearty co-operation of all our people with President Johnson, will only recoil upon its own head.

Lunatic Asylum.

A resolution has been before the Legislature for some weeks appropriating $44,000 for the support of the Insane Asylum of the State. We are surprised at the delay manifested in granting it. Is the Legislature disposed to abandon the institution? For months the inmates have been on short and coarse allowance. With 160 unfortunate people who deserve the sympathy of the State more than any other class of persons, we can see no cause which can justify the delay. The appropriation of $30,000 for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind, with, perhaps, only one third of the number of public beneficiaries to supply, was promptly granted. This was right. Why neglect those more deserving and objects of greater pity and commisseration?

State Credit Sutained.

The bill authorizing the issue of new bonds in payment of coupons due by the State, passed the Senate on yesterday, in the form in which it came from the House. Although the bill in effect compounds the interest due by the State, and which she is now unable to pay, yet it meets the reasonable demands of our creditors and maintains our honor and integrity, which are better than life itself. When the State has out-lived her honor, let her perish!

The Stay Law.

The bill to change the jurisdiction of the Courts and the rules of pleading therein, passed the Senate on yesterday as it came from the House. The bill only applies to debts contracted before May 1865, we believe. The bill authorises debtors to make mortgages and deeds of trust. We are not familiar with its provisions, and will publish it as soon as we can obtain it from the Secretary of State.

Honor the Worthy.

The country owes a debt of gratitude to Messrs. Doolittle and Cowan of the U. S. Senate, and Mr. Rogers of New Jersey, and others, for the manly stand they have taken against the illiberal policy of Messrs. Sumner and Stevens, and others, opposed to the President's policy.

Mr. Rogers' speech in the House the other day, produced a fine influence upon that body, and will have a telling effect upon the country. It is regarded as one of the ablest efforts made in the House. His minority report, admitting the State of Tennessee without the humiliating conditions contained in the report of Mr. Stevens, it is thought will be adopted. The illiberality and spirit of bitterness and injustice which marks the course of the ultra radicals, is opening the eyes of the country.

Capt. Semmes.

The rumor is brief about Washington that Capt. Semmes will be released, his parole being regarded as a protection.

If this be true, which we rather doubt, being too good, we suppose Maj. Gee could claim release upon the same ground, unless positive proof of direct, personal and intentional cruelty, inhumanity and murder could be proved against him.

MR. RAYNER.—We alluded a day or two ago to the return of Mr. Rayner from the North, and remarked that "he of course," like every other gentleman who has gone North and returned, "considers the prospect gloomy." The Standard is disposed to make an exclamation about the "of course." What of it? Is there any thing strange in Mr. Rayner's seeing things just as every body sees them?

WILLIAMSTON EXPOSITOR.—We have received the first No. of the Williamston Expositor, published at Williamston, N. C., by Eli Askew and edited by Abner S. Williams. Its editorials are well written, and it is worthy of patronage.

THE CONCERT.—The Concert of Madame Pozzoni last night was a splendid affair. We presume the lovers of operatic and the higher styles of music were highly gratified.

LOST BOOKS.—The Secretary of State advertises thirty boxes of the "Revised Code." lost about the time of the surrender. They are unable to the State and he desires information.

ARE YOU INSURED?—The North Carolina Life Insurance Company offers the strongest inducements for patronage. This institution is well managed and is entitled to the public confidence.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

SENATE.

(EVENING SESSION.)

The Senate was called to order at half-past seven o'clock.

Mr. Howard introduced the following:

Mr. Carter from the Committee on Claims, reported back the resolutions to pay the clerk employed by the committee appointed by the Provisional Governor to prepare a system of laws relative to the freedmen, recommended that it do not pass.

A message was received from the House of Commons enclosing a message from the Governor and Public Treasurer in regard to State cotton, with a recommendation, proposing to refer it to a joint select committee of two on the part of the Senate and three on the part of the House, which was concurred in, and proposed to have the message printed. Messrs. Arendell and McKoy were designated as the Senate branch of the committee.

Mr. Cowles introduced a bill for the relief of the people of the several counties of the State, and on his motion the rules were suspended, and the bill paised its several readings and ordered to be engrossed.

A message was received from the House transmitting the resolution in favor of certain disabled soldiers with an amendment in which they asked the concurrence of the Senate; bill for the benefit of the Common Schools; bill supplemental and amendatory of an act to reorganize the corporation government of the city of Newbern passed at this session of the General Assembly; a resolution in favor of T. N. Ramsay; resolution in favor of R. H. Bradly.

The bill to provide for the payment of the State debt contracted before the war, on its third reading, came up as the unfinished business. The question being, shall the bill pass its third reading, Mr. Howard moved to amend by striking out all after the enacting clause and insert as follows, viz: That an application by the holders of coupons due on bonds of the State dated prior to May 20, 1861, and of past due bonds of the State dated prior to said day, it shall be the duty of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, to sell for not less than the par value thereof, payable in said securities, shares of the capital stock of the North Carolina Rail Road Company.

Be it further enacted, That the coupons and bonds redeemed in the manner aforesaid, shall be cancelled by the said Commissioners, and a record of the same shall be kept by the Public Treasurer, and the question thereon was put and decided in the negative, ayes 18, nays 28.

The question recurring on the passage of the bill, was put, the yeas and nays being called, and was decided in the affirmative, yeas 25; nays 18.

On motion of Mr. Latham, the rules were suspended, and the bill to extend the time for collecting taxes, under the revenue ordinance of the Convention, was taken up, amended, and passed its third reading.

The revenue bill was taken up under the suspension of the rules, several slight amendments were adopted, and was under consideration when the hour of adjournment arrived.

The Speaker announced the Senate adjourned until the afternoon, at 3½ o'clock.

SENATE.

(AFTERNOON SESSION.)

The Senate was called to order at half-past three o'clock.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The further consideration of the Revenue bill was resumed. Numerous amendments were adopted making no very material change; the question recurring on the passage of its third reading, was decided unanimously in the affirmative.

A message was received from the House transmitting a bill regulating fees in the Supreme Court. Bill to incorporate the Newbern Savings Institution. Bill authorizing the renewal of certain State bonds in the hands of the Chatham Rail Road Company. The House did not concur in the amendment of the 9th section of the bill to change the jurisdiction [of courts and the rules of pleading therein. Mr. Howard moved the Senate recede, upon this motion the ayes and nays were called, it was decided in the affirmative. [This amendment related to deeds of trust. The bill passed as it came from the House.]

The bill to establish a scale of depreciation of the Confederate currency came up, Mr. Harris of Rutherford offered the scale reported by the majority as a substitute for Mr. Bynum's report, which was adopted. The question recurring on the passage of the bill, Mr. Carter called the ayes and nays and the bill passed its third reading, by a vote of 28 ayes and 14 nays.

The bill to prevent the abatement of suits in certain cases came up and passed its third reading.

Bill to amend an act entitled an act for the relief of Landlords came up on its third reading. On motion of Mr. Howard it was laid on the table.

The resolution making an appropriation for the Lunatic Asylum, came up. Mr. Cowles moved to amend by inserting the following proviso, viz: Provided, that no part of this sum be appropriated to the payment of salaries due before the 1st day of April last. Pending the question, the hour of 5½ arrived and the Speaker announced the Senate adjourned until 7½ o'clock to night.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

THURSDAY, March 8, 1866.

The journal of yesterday was read and approved.

On motion of Mr. Wheeler, the House took up the Senate resolution in favor of certain disabled soldiers.

A resolution reported from the Financial Committee, was adopted, and the resolution as amended, passed its several readings.

Ramsay; a bill to amend the charter of the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad Company; a bill to repeal so much of chapter 68, revised code, as relates to requiring bonds for marriage licenses; a bill to amend chapter 68 revised code; a resolution in favor of the Trustees of Randolph county; a bill regulating fees in the Supreme Court; a bill to amend the charter of the Ashville and Greenville Turnpike Company; a bill authorizing the removal of certain State bonds in the hands of the Chatham Railroad Company; a bill to incorporate the Mayor and Aldermen of the city of Charlotte; a bill to charter the city of Raleigh; and, a bill to extend the corporate limits of the town of Kinston, and for other purposes, passed second and third readings.

A bill to encourage the planting of Oysters and clams passed second and third readings, with an amendment excluding from its operation the counties of Hyde and Currituck.

A resolution in favor of John True and other disabled soldiers, was put on its second reading.

A substitute proposed by the judiciary committee authorizing the several counties to levy taxes for the support of disabled soldiers, was amended on motion of Mr. Russell, by striking out the words "and required," which made the levy of such taxes obligatory on the county courts. The substitute was then adopted, and the bill as amended passed under a suspension of the rules.

A resolution appropriating $8,000 for repairs to the Governor's mansion, was rejected on second reading under a call of the yeas and nays: yeas 7, nays 85.

Mr. Smith of Hertford, subsequently entered a motion to reconsider this vote.

A message from the Senate transmitted the bill to change the jurisdiction of the courts and the rules of pleading therein, with amendments asking concurrence.

The House refused to concur in the Senate amendment to section 9th, which amendment is as follows: "that all deeds of trust and mortgages hereafter made, and judgments confessed to secure debts, shall be void as to creditors, unless it expressly declares therein that the proceeds of sale thereunder shall be appropriated to the payment of all the debts and liabilities of the trustor or mortgagee equally pro rata; Provided, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to sheriffs or other public officers who may make a mortgage ordered in trust to secure sureties to their official bonds: And provided further, That this act shall not apply to sales of land or other property where the deed of trust or mortgage is taken at the time of sale to secure any part of the purchase money thereof, nor to any such deed made by a lessee of land for any crop growing upon the same for the purchase of securing the rent reserved for the lease of said land.

The yeas and nays were taken on the question of Concurrence, and the vote stood yeas 43—nays 51.

Mr. Joyner, by leave introduced a bill to incorporate the Weldon Publishing Company, which passed its several reading under a suspension of the rules.

The House then adjourned until 10 o'clock A. M. to-morrow.

[The reporter stated erroneously in yesterday's report that Mr. Blackmer nominated Hon. A. M. Scales, for Solicitor of the 4th Judicial District. The nomination was made by Mr. Baxter.]

For the Sentinel.

MR. EDITOR:—The Local of the Standard seems to be hard run for an item of news, as we find in this morning's issue of the Standard, a long epitaph on the probable death of the Legislature, he says: on "Monday March 13th, 1866, of a popular disease known as $6 per day." It may be forgotten that said Local is, and was Chief Clerk to the Convention, when and where he received $10 per day, and instead of dying, he is still living and looking remarkably well. And no doubt, he took his $10 per day and thought it not too much.

Now, if said Local is "hard up" again for an item, we would suggest that he would attend the Legislature, and perhaps, he would be better able to judge of the work done, and of the disposition on the part of some, at least, to be economical. The slur which he throws out on the members generally, is exceedingly uncourteous towards his friends, and uncalled for by the members of the Legislature, especially of those who voted for him, as Chief Clerk to the Convention, which body set the example of high prices. It was all right then, but not so now. "Physician heal thyself."

For the Sentinel.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I notice with mortification that the Standard is still denouncing as traitors and clamoring for the punishment of men, who put in practical operation the doctrines that paper so strenuously advocated for years. While Mr. Holden thinks "Davis & Co. ought to be hung," he at one time not only advocated secession as a right but as a duty, whenever a Black Republican should be elected President, and went as far as the farthest in his defence of the principles of State rights, State sovereignty, &c. He took as his "guide star" the great South Carolina statesman, as will appear from the following lines. While he is crying for the blood of Mr. Davis, and writing "Union poetry," as if he were immaculate as a Union man, we beg leave to refresh his memory by his tribute to Mr. Calhoun.

MODERATION.

JOHN C. CALHOUN.

BY W. W. HOLDEN,

"Editor of the Standard."

The voyager on the Southern main
Views with rapt awe the hallowed sign
Which nightly flames "beyond the line;"
Nor deems he labor all in vain
Which brings him to the long sought shrine.

The warrior's tribes, in field, by flood,
Walk in its light when the day is gone;
And hail it in its light abode
Best reflex of the absent sun:
In all their devious wanderings
From dewy eve through midnight's reign,
It guides them till the morning's wings
Shed sunlight o'er the earth again.

What if that cross its front should veil
And, darkling, sink in night's embrace?
No other stars nor sun could fill
Or share its wondrous dwelling place.

Star of the South! 'twas thus with thee!
To thee all eyes and hearts were turned
As round thy path from plain to sea
The glory of thy greatness burned.

Millions were drawn to thee, and bound
By mind's high mastery; millions hailed
In thee a guiding star, nor found
A ray in thee that waned or failed.

Fix'd as the sun which hangs in Heaven,
Firm as the earth it shines upon;
Pure as the snow by light winds driven
Wert thou, Columbia's honored son!

No night's embrace for thee nor pall
But such a mortal change has wrought:
THOU LIVEST STILL in mind—in all
That breathes, or speaks, or lives in thought.

Star of the South! thy beams are here—
HERE IN THIS HEART that weeps thy loss,
Though hidden, thou art still a sphere
Serene, refined from earthly dross,
Eternal, and intensely clear.

1866. SPRING TRADE. 1866.

IN OPENING THE

SPRING TRADE,

I would return my most grateful thanks to the citizens of Petersburg and the surrounding country for the very liberal patronage extended the past season, and hope to merit its further continuance by holding out still further inducements.

My present facilities are beyond doubt unequalled, and no effort will be spared to place before our patrons Goods

AT THE LOWEST PRICE,

that the present market value will admit of, and in many instances much below, as we are constantly represented at the large auction sales, where goods are frequently sold much less than cost of importation. These, with

Many Other Available Facilities,

I pledge myself to use to the best interest of our customers.

The stock is now much larger and better assorted than at any time previous, having added a complete assortment of

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS,

Among them the most elegant who have so liberally patronized us the past season, I return my most grateful thanks, and solicit an early call, assuring them they will find our goods at as low prices as any house North or South.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS,

Are the most perfect purgative which we are able to produce, or which we think has ever yet been made by any body. Their effects have abundantly shown to the community how much they excel the ordinary medicines in use. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart a healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and, being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief, were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character, as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliabilities of our remedies, while others have sent us the assurance of their conviction that our Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of our afflicted, suffering fellow men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis our American Almanac, containing directions for the use, and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the bowels and pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Diseases which require an evacuant medicine. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations which they make more profit on. Demand AYER'S and take no other. The sick want the best and there is for them, and they should have it.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., and sold by Williams & Haywood, P. F. Pescud, Raleigh, N. C., and Dealers generally.

PROSPECTUS.

THE publication of the

The North Carolina Presbyterian

will be resumed in Fayetteville, on Wednesday, the 2nd of January next.

Confidently relying on the hearty support which we have heretofore received, we shall endeavor to render the paper more attractive, both in appearance and matter, than it has ever been, sparing neither pains or expense in the accomplishment of this purpose.

With the passing away of old things, a new spirit of activity, energy and enterprise, has been infused into every department of secular thought and business. Why should not the Church, also, partake of the progressive advancement? Why should she, of all the agencies brought to bear with such tremendous force upon the civilization of the present time, be inefficient, laggard and almost hopeless in the working out of her own destiny?

To arouse the church to the importance and necessity of work; of unceasing, restless, tireless energy in the service of her Master and Head; this shall be our first and chiefest aim. In this we need assistance. We are not, alone, sufficient for these things. Our brethren must help us in every way; by contributions from the rich own stores of thought and study; by zealous co-operation in a common cause, for the benefit of all; by extending our circulation throughout all our borders, and thus giving us the means and the opportunity of performing well the work to which we have consecrated all that we have, and all we hope for on earth.

From the Fayetteville Presbyterian.

THE PRICE OF PEACE.

LOULA.

A woman paced, with hurried step, her lone and dreary cell!
The setting sun with golden ray upon her dark hair fell,
Which lay dishevel'd on her breast, and many a shred of grey
Wound midst those tresses—sorrow's gift—while on her breast they lay.

She murmured disconnected strains, as to and fro she paced,
And wildly beamed her piercing eye, and on her wasted face
A burning flush of fever glowed,—then rolled the lava tide
Of thought from those thin, coral lips, as passionate she cried:

"Peace, peace! they tell me peace has come, they say the war is o'er;
The battle-cry, the shriek of death, shall fill the land no more:
They bid my heart rejoice—be glad; they bid my tears to cease;
Yes, yes, my heart, thou shouldst rejoice, for thou hast paid for peace!

"Ah! let me count the price once more, for fear my lips restrain
The faintest note that they should give to that rejoicing strain;
I had a son, a noble boy, just entered manhood's bloom
But he forgot his mother's tears when first the cannon's boom
Was heard upon our Southern shores, ah! 't was a magic spell,
And gallantly he bore our flag, and gallantly he fell:
I never saw my boy again, [they say my tears must cease,]
But, Herbert, drop for drop with thine, my heart paid blood for peace!

"Another son, a stripling boy, who, always by my side,
Frail as a lily, was content forever to abide;
Not eighteen summers had I nursed, with all a mother's care,
This tender plant, when orders came my only child to tear
From mine embrace. I knew he'd die, and on my bended knee,
I begged his life—besought and wept, but no, it could not be:
They bore him off. He never met the foe on hill or plain,
But drooped and died, I know not where,—we never met again!
Oh! Willie, with thy soft blue eyes! hush hush, my tears must cease,
Yet, darling, with thy dying groans I paid in part for peace!
"Now both are gone—who had I left? None but the fond true heart,
Who'd mingled tear for tear with mine,—he who had borne a part
In every throb of anguish wild which still my bosom rent,
Whose eyes were dim, whose hair was grey, with nights of weeping spent
For these our sons. I thought that we, thro' all this midnight gloom,
Would, hand in hand, walk mournfully together to the tomb.

"But War insatiate claimed him too: I saw him too; depart
And something made of stone, I think, was giv'n me for a heart:
I could not weep for many a day; I was alone, alone
With that cold weight within my breast—that heavy heart of stone.

Tears came and melted it at last; in prison far away,
Heavy and worn, uncared for too, he languished day by day;
But Herbert and our Willie came, and bade the captive go;
They broke his chains, I know they did, the angels told me so;
And when they bore his soul aloft, and bade his sufferings cease,
I paid in spirit on his grave all that I owed for peace.

"Must I rejoice? perchance I might; but was this all the price?
Ah! did my jewels, did my tears, my broken heart suffice?
No! count upon the battle-field ten thousand nameless graves,
Call on the winds for sighs and groans—go tell the ocean waves
To bring their dead—the prison-walls to shriek their sickening tales,
Concentrate, if you've power to-night, widows' and orphans' wails;
Heap broken hearts on broken hearts, till Pity bid you cease,
And then you'll have not half the price that we have paid for peace!

"They say I'm mad—it may be so; they've bound me in this cell;
I know not when they brought me here, and nothing can I tell
Of Heaven above or earth beneath; but oh! till life shall cease,
Though reason's gone, the price I'll know which I have paid for Peace!"

The Fashions for Spring.

The opening of spring has brought with it the new mysteries of fashion. On Thursday the bleak westerly winds and the chill atmosphere were unfriendly to the fashion-seekers.—Yesterday the sun broke through the clouds, and the little glimpse of sunshine that cheered the city filled the streets and stores with ready customers. The changes in fashions since last year are not very radical. Dresses for the season are nearly all gored, and the skirts cut very short, so as to display the border of the petticoat, or, else the dress should be looped up with the patent dress-elevators. Among the prettiest of the new style is the "Madeline" gored dress. This dress is cut without plaits at the waist, and the skirt and body is all in one piece. It is made in buff goat's hair cloth, so pale in tint that it is little more than cream color, trimmed with blue velvet of the bright Mexican tint. The peculiar feature of this dress consists of side-pieces at the back, which are continued down upon the skirt, forming coat-tails rather than sashes, fifteen inches in width at the bottom, with simulated pockets. The tails or scarfs are repeated in front, but are much shorter, and not so wide at the bottom. The velvet is simply put on as a narrow border to all the edges, and round the bottom of the skirt. The pockets and front of the dress are ornamented with blue velvet buttons to match.

The "crystal" tunic dress is another novelty, and is composed of two colors and two materials. The under dress is of grab poplin, the body cut square and the skirt gored. The upper or tunic dress of green silk, cut altogether, skirt and boddice, in the "princesse" style; that is to say, without any plaits at the waist. The tunic is opened at each seam, and trimmed on the edge with ruching. It also opens upon the sides and shoulders, for convenience of putting on, thus, completing a very novel and stylish arrangement. Scarlet dresses for children are all the rage. A very pretty sleeve, called the "coulte," is exhibited, composed of goat's hair or other spring material. It is shaped to the waist, but made full upon the back, giving the effect of an inserted puff.

Two methods are adopted for trimming gored skirts, one commencing from the top and the other from the bottom. Trimming, commencing from the bottom, begins at the side, and ascends higher as it nears the front of the dress; but trimmings or ornaments commencing at the top of the skirt should run deep at the back and shorten as it nears the front. A new idea in the way of ornaments is now coming into vogue in the shape of medallion or cameos, which are intended to supersede the gold, silver, and steel ornaments now in wear. Some of these are very richly gotten up, and have the appearance of a valuable carved cameo brooch. Epaulettes are worn, composed of two or more of these studs or brooches laid together by chains of silver, and which hang in festoons from the shoulder.

Bands and ornamental galloons will be much used this spring for trimming short cloaks and paletots, arranged to suit the taste of the wearer. Of the various articles of feminine attire, the bonnet is certainly the "head centre" of attraction among the fair sex. It is an article that is manipulated by the fickle dame more than any other. Sometimes it is all crown—perhaps all curtain. Another season it has no crown at all, and scarcely any front. This season bonnets are of a very light and coquettish description. The "Empire" at present worn is to be succeeded by the "Pamela" and a long category of others entitled the "Gipsey," "Aurora," &c. The "Pamela" is a very pretty bonnet; one noticed yesterday was composed of white crape, trimmed with violet ribbon and jet and straw ornaments. The crown was loose, the curtain formed with a narrow border of lace and the front depressed a la Mary Stuart. Another was composed of white lace, trimmed with orange-colored ribbons and white satin jessamine flowers, covered with wax. A hat called the "Margaret" is to supersede the Oxford hat now worn; it is similar in shape, but larger, made of straw or Leghorn, and trimmed with velvet and cameos. Round cloaks will be worn this summer in preference to any other together with talmas and double capes, scolloped out at the edge and bound with material to match the dress.

Balmoral skirts will be little worn, except in dirty weather; in fine weather cambric skirts, trimmed with fluting, will take their place.—Some very pretty skirts are made of goat's hair, striped with black and white. Short sacks, composed of velvet cloth and trimmed with hair or edge fringe, will be worn either for the street or opera.

LIFE INSURANCE NOTICE.

THE old and well established

Ætna Company, of Hartford,

Offers superior inducements to all who wish to provide for family or friends.

All losses are promptly paid. No case of litigation has ever occurred with this Company. With assetts of $2,300,000, it offers to receive one half of the premium in a note and half in cash, and, after the second year, to credit each customer with the dividends of the Company, which are now 50 per cent. With a small outlay, $500, or $10,000, or $20,000, may be secured to the family after their earthly providers are taken away. What father or husband would not feel thankful on his dying couch, that he had availed himself of every proper means to place those nearest and dearest to him, also at the prochings of want, and a life of dependence upon friends or charity? $ 819 policies have been issued from the office ending Jan. 15, 1866. The total income for the year 1865 was $1,683,339 57; total disbursements $527 805 24, leaving a balance to surplus fund of $1,155 234 33.

In Raleigh a large number have liberally responded and promptly acted in this matter; yet many delay, and may wait until it is too late. A man in this city lately left his place of business for his evening meal, well and healthy, but never reached that home except as he was carried there to die. Had that man taken the advice of the Agent, he might have left $5000 to minister to the necessities of a sorrowing family. Delays are dangerous, procrastination destructive. But one says, "If I only had confidence in the Company that it would pay, I would insure." Well, it never has failed to pay, and to-day is more responsible than ever before. It is patronized by some of the most sagacious minds in the land—men competent to detect and expose any deception if it existed.

THIS valuable Manure has been before the agricultural public, under one name for twelve years past, and its character for vigor of action and permanence in effect is well established. Before the war, it was introduced, to some extent, in the Southern States, and was found to be highly adapted to

In its action, it is as quick as Peruvian Guano, while it does not leave the land in an exhausted state, but on the other hand permanently improves it. This has been fully proven by years of trial.

PROSPECTUS

OLD NORTH STATE.

"The Old North State Forever."

THE undersigned will commence the publication of a Daily and Weekly Newspaper, bearing the above title, in the city of Salisbury about the 10th of March next.

The Old North State will be, under our control, a firm and decided Union paper. But while it will be firm and decided in its support of the Union, and of all just and necessary measures tending to its complete restoration, it will yet be liberal and conservative. It will oppose radicalism from whatever quarter it may come. Confiding in the loyal intentions of the great body of the people of North Carolina, it will endeavor to soothe the asperities of the past by promoting among them a spirit of reconciliation and harmony.

Rejecting the exploded dogma of paramount State sovereignty, it will cheerfully support the National government in the exercise of every power necessary to the maintenance of its rightful authority, while it will ever contend against any encroachments upon the reserved rights of the States.

It will discuss all the various political issues of the day, but in doing this it will seek to avoid everything like partizan bitterness or personal vituperation. It will also strive to avoid that detestable practice, so common among politicians, of pandering to the passions and appealing to the prejudices of the multitude in order to accomplish partizan ends. It will endeavor to enlighten and direct aright public sentiment, by disseminating correct information, and by arguments addressed to the understanding—in short it will endeavor to erect a high standard of political morality.

Its columns will be open for Political, Moral, Literary and Agricultural articles, especially, and to the advertising public.

The Old North State will be printed on new type on the following

THE LOYALIST.

THE undersigned propose to publish in Louisburg, North Carolina, a newspaper under the above denomination, The LOYALIST; as its name imports, will yield a firm, uniform, and fearless support to the Constitution of the United States, and all laws enacted in pursuance of that great instrument. To the decisions of the Supreme Court of the nation, in such questions as originate in the interpretation or application of the principles involved in our federal jurisprudence or policy, the Loyalist will accord its unqualified acquiescence, as to the will of the American people, duly expressed through the only legitimate, determinate and sufficient medium. Its general politics will be those so long and so thoroughly taught by the patriotism, the eloquence, and the wisdom of Clay, and his departed compeers, and so fearfully vindicated by the present melancholy and helpless condition of the communities so recently arrayed in arms against the integrity and harmony of our national union.

The Loyalist would make the institutions and independence the material and moral identity of the nation, as enduring and as brilliant as the stars whose images adorn the field and the folds of its flag. The Loyalist will also dedicate its energies and exert its abilities to ascertain and cherish the interests, as well as to develope the immense resources of North Carolina. To the cause of education, the general diffusion of knowledge, the elevation of the masses, and the religious culture of all within its influence it will be a consistent and inflexible friend. Its editorial department will be conducted by gentlemen whose names will be announced in due time.

The LOYALIST will be issued weekly, carefully printed, of the size of the Raleigh "Daily Sentinel," and furnished to patrons at $3.00 per annum payable on delivery of the first number. Subscriptions and communications respectfully solicited.
